

FORUM ON HEALTH CARE INNOVATION

HEALTH ACCELERATION CHALLENGE

SEEKING INNOVATIONS THAT CAN TRANSFORM HEALTH CARE DELIVERY

We're looking for good ideas that have the potential to do great things for the US health care delivery system. Winners will be invited to join many of the greatest minds in health care at our conference in April 2015.

We hope to see you there.

HARVARD
BUSINESS SCHOOL

HARVARD
MEDICAL SCHOOL

HEALTH ACCELERATION CHALLENGE

The Forum on Health Care Innovation, hosted by Harvard Business School and Harvard Medical School, want to hear about your innovations that...

IMPROVE THE QUALITY OF CARE

LOWER CARE DELIVERY COSTS

EXPAND ACCESS TO CARE

HAVE DEMONSTRATED REAL VALUE

CAN SCALE TO CREATE BROADER IMPACT

APPLICATION DEADLINE

29 SEP 2014

$150,000

PRIZES SHARED BY FINALISTS

$50,000

GRAND PRIZE

OPEN TO ALL:

www.HealthAccelerationChallenge.com

The Challenge is open to anyone. After open review via crowdsourced comments, a panel of expert judges will invite a short list of three to five finalists to present their ideas at the April 2015 Forum on Health Care Innovation at Harvard Business School. These finalists will share $150,000; a final winner, chosen the following year, will receive an additional $50,000.

WHO:

Anyone with an innovative health care idea that has proven its value and has the potential to scale.

WHAT:

Winning innovations will attract the attention of a broad network of health care authorities, and become subjects for future HBS case studies.

WHERE:

Submit ideas to www.HealthAccelerationChallenge.com. Finalists will present at the April 2015 Forum on Health Care Innovation Conference.

WHEN:

The Health Acceleration Challenge website will accept submissions until September 29, 2014.